Corporate Policy:

It is Trane Technologies’ policy to comply fully with the Customs laws, regulations and policies of all countries where it does business. Trane Technologies recognizes that Canada government and the government of other countries have laws, regulations and policies, which control the international movement (import and export) of goods, technology and data. Trane Technologies further recognizes the importance of compliance with these laws, regulations and policies. Failure to comply may result in severe penalties to Trane Technologies and / or individual employees, including monetary penalties, adverse publicity, loss of import / export privileges, delay or seizure of shipments, and in extreme cases, criminal penalties (fines and jail terms).

Purpose:

This Supplier Guide for Canada Imports is in place to ensure efficient and timely delivery of cargo from international supply points to Trane Technologies locations within Canada.

These procedures cannot be interpreted as a substitute for compliance with applicable Canada Government regulations. Failure to comply with these requirements could result in unexpected delays, unnecessary costs, fines/penalties, inspections and/or seizure of inbound shipments for non-regulatory compliance.

Scope:

This policy applies to all Canada imports. The most current version of the Supplier Guide for Canada Imports is located on:

Assists:

Canada Customs requires any assists to be reported at the time of import filing and can be added to one shipment or a number of shipments for a specific period of time. The foreign supplier must first identify any item that was provided free of charge or below market value for use in the production of product for Trane Canada ULC. Assists can include: machinery or parts, molds, raw materials.

Free Trade Agreement / Government Procurement Requests

Upon request, our valued Suppliers will provide Trane Technologies with all information and records relating to the purchased products that may be necessary for Trane Canada ULC to:

- (a) Fulfill any Customs obligations, origin marking or labeling requirements,
- (b) Claim preferential duty treatment under applicable trade preference regimes, and
- (c) Participate in any duty deferral or free trade zone programs of the country of import.

Trane Technologies is legally required to maintain certain documentation and specific data related to products purchased and/or imported into Canada. This documentation may help substantiate key compliance elements such as the harmonized tariff classification and country of origin of the imported products. In order to maintain the data, Trane Technologies may send suppliers solicitation requests on a regular basis. These requests may include but are not limited to any of the following: USMCA, CAFTA, GSP Certificate of Origin or Manufacturer’s Affidavit/Declaration or Certificate of Origin requests. Your prompt response is critical.

Export Packaging Requirements:

All wooden packaging materials (WPM) must be ISPM15 compliant. All WPM must be properly marked to indicate either heat treatment or methyl bromide treated and marked with the IPPC certification. Wood packing material is defined as wood or wood products (excluding paper products, such as corrugated paper cartons) used in supporting, protecting or carrying a commodity (includes tonnage). Wooden packing materials include: Pallets, crates, boxes, packing blocks, drums, cases, skids and pieces of wood used to support or brace cargo. Canada Customs and Border Services requires all containers transiting via ocean vessel are sealed using ISO/PAS 17712 standards. Natural Resources Canada (NRCan)

Natural Resources Canada (NRCan), is the ministry of the government of Canada responsible for natural resources, energy, minerals and metals, forests, earth sciences, mapping and remote sensing. The Energy Efficiency Regulations apply to dealers who import regulated energy-using products into Canada for sale or lease or ship regulated energy-using products that are manufactured in one Canadian province to another for sale or lease.

A dealer is defined in the Energy Efficiency Act as a person engaged in the business of

- manufacturing energy-using products in Canada
- importing energy-using products into Canada or
- selling or leasing energy-using products obtained directly or indirectly from a person engaged in a business described in a) or b) or an agent thereof The Energy

Efficiency Regulations require that dealers comply with the following two reporting requirements:

- Before shipping an energy-using product interprovincial or importing it, the dealer must ensure that an energy efficiency report has been filed with NRCan.
- When importing an energy-using product into Canada, the dealer must include the information required in Part VI of the Energy Efficiency Regulations in a customs release document.

An energy efficiency report must be submitted only when a product model is not already listed in the NRCan database. Read regulations here: <https://www.nrcan.gc.ca/energy/regulations-codes-standards/6859>

Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA)

The Canadian Food Inspection Agency is a regulatory agency that is dedicated to the safeguarding of food, animals, and plants, which enhance the health and well-being of Canada's people, environment and economy.
